

Dear Cape Ann Chamber colleagues,

We are all dealing with a public health and economic crisis -- the dimensions of which we have never experienced before. The coronavirus has us all on edge.

Rest assured, however, that your hometown journalists at the Gloucester Daily Times are hard at work to provide you with reliable, timely information during this pandemic.

To continue this essential work, I am asking for your help. Please consider subscribing for $9.99/month for full website access. Call (800) 836-7800 and mention this "Publisher's Special Offer."

Despite the challenges, The Times remains firmly committed to delivering your news in print and online. We have a responsibility to you -- especially in times of emergency -- to provide news that is accurate and trustworthy. This is a commitment that we take seriously.

Thank you. Stay safe.

Sincerely,

Karen Andreas
